

Director at Large, Centre for Earth and Spirit Society (Volunteer Position)

“Inspiring Consciousness for Human Responsibility to The Earth”

Since its inception in 2003, the Centre for Earth and Spirit Society (CESS) has been offering life-affirming programs that inspire consciousness for the human responsibility to the Earth. The CESS is a non-profit organization with charitable status whose mission is to offer sacred spaces for cultivating meaningful conversation, contemplation, and community. Through worldview shifting action, we co-create opportunities to deepen relationships and reciprocity with the Earth and all beings.

Our offerings currently focus on embodied eco-spirituality, end-of-life, and somatic well-being. Grounded in our own ongoing learning about local W̱SÁNEĆ and Quw’utsun’ Traditional Ecological Knowledge and principles of land stewardship, our experienced facilitators host regular weekly and monthly programs (online and in person), contributing to expanding intergenerational and cross-cultural communities of care. Future areas of interest include land and place-based experiences and natural burials.

Please visit our website for details on current and past offerings: <https://centreforearthandspirit.ca/>

Director at Large Qualifications

Ideal Skills/Experience

- Excellent Interpersonal, communication and leadership skills
- Experience in any of the following: fundraising, grant writing, project management, non-profit management, social media, community engagement

Qualities:

- Has a deep interest and care for the continuation of the organization and unfolding our mission, beyond personal involvement
- Integrity and honesty
- Intellectual and spiritual curiosity
- Emotional intelligence and awareness
- Open-minded and collaborative
- A pre-existing passion for our mission

- Willing to prepare ahead for meetings
- Strong desire and commitment to steward the Earth, water, air and all beings
- Supportive, and willing to express their own opinion
- Committed to inclusivity
- Committed to ongoing processes of reconciliation with local and global First Peoples (including recognition of the harms of historical and contemporary processes of colonialism)
- Dedication to their own personal evolution
- Has the time to contribute easily

General Board Responsibilities:

- Attend monthly board meetings in person, by telephone or by Zoom
- Attend the Annual General Meeting
- Participate in email discussions and decision making on an on-going basis
- Participate in ad hoc committees as needed
- Uphold CESS Constitution and Bylaws
- Be informed about the organization's mission, vision, and programming.
- Advocate on behalf of the organization
- Serve as ambassador and champion of CESS
- Identify prospective board members and assist with recruitment when necessary
- Participate in the approval of the annual budget and monitor the financial performance of the society in relation to it

All Bodies are Welcome

The Centre for Earth and Spirit Society inspires wellness and wholeness for all beings. We aspire to operate on principles of non-violent communication and have a zero-tolerance policy for hate speech and discrimination. We honour historical and lived realities of Black, Indigenous, People of Colour, 2SLGBTQIA+, Disabled and chronically ill people. We also recognize the intersectional challenges and trauma often faced by women (transgender and cisgender), non-binary, and female-identifying queer and two-spirit people. We create and include space for all beings as we walk together in this great time of awareness and deep systemic change.

Note: For more information or to a letter of interest please contact us at: info@centreforearthandspirit.ca.